I am most proud of the fact that I have been able to coach 6 first timers into the masters and now 8 first timers to the PGA TOUR.

The newest and most impact full with me is that Golf Magazine and I have made some apps together. They like the fact that I teach patterns in the gym and want me to be there fitness/instruction guy for there .com site. I did a video for them with Ryan Brehm and it has more hits then any video they have ever done. I am also starting a subscription site which will roll out next month.

LochenHeath has been able to double their membership the last 3 years I have been there. They give me a lot of credit because my teaching gives the club exposure do to newspaper articles web exposure and more. I also wear their logo on my clothes and several of the players I coach have the LochenHeath logo on their bag, including Ryan Brehm, who played the PGA tour last year!
